PVPV Rawlings Video Club Student Pledge

I will make my video myself. The Jim Harbin Student Media Festival rules say that entries must be written and produced entirely by students.

I will:

- Write my own script and storyboard before filming.
- Film, record the sound, and edit my video myself.
- Ask my teacher for advice if I need help, but do the video-making work on my own.
- Give credit for any music, clips, or photos I use that I did not make.
- Follow the Jim Harbin Student Media Festival rules.
- Do my best to make a video that shows my own ideas and work!

Adult help that is not okay:

- A grown-up writes or fixes my script or story ideas.
- A grown-up holds the camera or records sound.
- A grown-up edits my video or adds music or titles.
- A grown-up redoes parts of my video for me.
- A grown-up gives me ideas to make my video "better."

Adult encouragement that is okay:

- A grown-up listens to my ideas.
- A grown-up cheers me on.
- A grown-up helps me practice my lines.
- A grown-up lets me use family supplies and equipment with permission.
- A grown-up reminds me of deadlines and helps me stay focused while working.
- A grown-up helps my group get together to work on our video.

I have read this pledge and will do my best to follow it.
